hurst avenue, diagonally across from Mannattan Field, was completely destroyed by fire early this morning. Roste Raubuhier, a servant, perished in the flames. Everybody else in the house escaped. Sixty chickens, a deg and a parrot were burned. About $20,000 loss was caused by the fire. The property was owned by Brewer George Ehret. Edward and Martin Grassmuck conducted the place. The buildings were of trome, two stories high. There were several wooded extensions, a large dancing pavilion and wazon sheds. Everything was burned, excepting the wagon sheds. The saloon was in the colner, almost under the new from visiout, which is being built across from Washingtan Heights. The place was closed at to clock this morning, having had a very busy day resterday. The Grassmuck' sleeping rooms wereon the second floor. Mrs. Grassmuck, their mother, who is seventy-five years old, their sister recitha, Olga Muller their niece, and the stryant were steeping in the house when the fire started.

The names were first discovered by Policeman George W. Kr wal, whose futention was attracted by the accessing of a parrot beonging to he Grassmucks.
